ACADEMIC ADVISING

➢ The academic advisors throughout campus can help you with your schedule and academic plan. You should plan to see more than one advisor throughout your time at UC Davis to make sure all your questions are answered.

➢ Each of the advising resources are happy to help you, but in general, the best reasons to visit are listed below:

Where should I go for academic advising?

Residence Hall Academic Advising Centers

• Meet with a peer advisor to hear a student perspective
• Plan your quarter schedule
• Check your general education progress

Major or Minor Advisor

• Check your major or minor progress
• Plan out your specific major or minor classes
• Ask about different scheduling options found within the major or minor

College Dean’s Office Advisor

• Share concerns about academic difficulty or status
• Check progress on non-major college and university requirements, including general education requirements

ACADEMIC TIPS FOR SUCCESS

➢ Learn About Campus Resources and Tools
  o Registrar’s Registration Calendar - registrar.ucdavis.edu/calendar/registration.cfm ▪ Use the Registrar’s Registration Calendar to see important dates in the quarter, such as when your pass times are available and deadlines for adding and dropping a course.
  o Class Search Tool - classes.ucdavis.edu ▪ Use the Class Search Tool for looking up information about classes offered each quarter, such as the times, days, and prerequisites.
  o Schedule Builder – my.ucdavis.edu ▪ Use Schedule Builder to look up courses, create multiple schedules, and register and change courses.
  o Online Advising Student Information System (OASIS) – students.ucdavis.edu ▪ Use OASIS to access tools and information related to academic advising and your academic record, including your student information, forms and petitions, and a What-if GPA calculator.
  o MyDegree – mydegree.ucdavis.edu ▪ Use My Degree to track your degree requirements and progress toward degree completion; explore alternative majors and/or additional fields of study.
  o Major Department Websites
    ▪ Department websites may offer information on course offerings, major requirements, advising hours, research opportunities, and frequently asked questions regarding their major and/or minor.

➢ Develop Effective Study Skills and Time Management
  o Develop good study skills and implement effective time management techniques in order to reach your academic, personal, and professional goals.
  o Follow the Carnegie Rule and ensure that you are spending at least two hours working outside of class for every one hour in class (i.e. for every 4 unit class, you need to allocate 8 hours of study time per week).
  o Utilize resources on campus and in your classes to maximize your success (i.e. attending Office Hours, participating in time management and study skills workshops at the Student Academic Success Center).

➢ Invest in Your Professional Development
  o Allocate time to develop your resume and skills set for the future.
  o Internships and other professional development opportunities are available for students in a variety of spaces including, but not limited to, the Undergraduate Research Center, the Internship and Career Center, the Center for Leadership Learning, student organizations, academic departments, etc.
